

Please join us in welcoming Emery Hyslop-Margison as Chair of the Department of Curriculum, Culture and Educational Inquiry.

He comes to us from the University of New Brunswick in Canada where Hyslop-Margison served as a Professor and Research Coordinator. Most recently Emery was selected, along with his co-author, as the winner of the Sheffield Award for the best research article published in the Canadian Journal of Higher Education during 2012.

He received a doctorate in Curriculum Theory and Implementation from Simon Fraser University in Burnaby, B.C., and a Master of Education in Curriculum and Instruction from University of New Brunswick.

Introducing Emery Hyslop-Margison

Emery's position began
Monday,
July 1, 2013

